Home All Right

I want to say to the public in general that the Home Telephone Co. of Cookeville is all right.

When this assessment is paid up we will be out of debt, and I don't see why we shall ever get in debt any

If this system is properly managed it will pay all expenses and have a surplus left, if the subscribers will come right up at the end of each month and pay their rent, and then if the officers in charge don't do their duty fire them out and get men who will do it.

When the people are stockholders in any enterprise they are simply partners in the business. It is everybody's duty to take an interest and help push it along and then it can't help succeeding.

Now, I would be glad if all who want telephones with the Home would come right along with their lines and join the procession and we will be able to give you satisfaction. JOHN SPEAKMAN, Manager.

Miss Edna Shirley entartained about 50 young people last Friday night in a most delightful manner. Games were played, contests engaged in, music enjoyed and dainty refreshments served. The occasion was one of the society events of the summer, and thoroughly enjoyed by those present.

STATE FAIR AS AN EDUCATION

Tennessee Exposition Ranks
Among the Best in the Land.

The Tennessee State Fair has won distinction throughout the land. It is now in the front rank with the best state fairs in the country. The statesman, the philosopher, the scholar, are all agreed and sing the praises of agricultural and those who plow. There is no other occupation that means so much to the welfare of Tennessee.

The mission of the great Tennessee State Fair is to encourage better agriculture; to induce men to mix brains with their work; to urge them to better efforts, more intelligent farming, more intelligent breeding. It is more profitable to raies good animals than to raise scrubs. A first-class animal seldom has a second-class owner. When you improve the breed you improve the race of man who breeds the animals. The Tennessee State Fair, as an educational institution stands high. It is a school of research and investigation that is improving directly and indirectly the conditions of thousands of the best citizens. The Tennessee State Fair is adding thousands to the revenue of the state. It shows who has learned his lesson best and can deliver the goods. It is the comparison of ideas and results, There is no better way to let the people appreciate what a great state Tennessee is than to attend the State Fair.

Agriculture is a breeder of patriotism as well. Give a man a fine home, a fine house and fine animals of every kind, and that man is a patriot. It was the farm boys that came along and kept the stars on the flag. Tennesseam point with pride to their schools and colleges and should also point with pride to their great annual State Fair which is educating the farming communities of the whole state in the important pursuit of agriculture and stock raising and make possible even greater schools of learning in the cities and Timekeepers of Progress.

Fairs and expositions are the timekeepers of the progress of the nation. They record the world's advancement, stimulate the energy, the enterprise and interest of the people and quicken human genius.

Agriculture is the foundation of commerce. When granaries are full, prosperity smiles; when depleted, it frowns. Education and agriculture is the foundation of the nation and the salvation of the country. The Tennessee State Fair means more for the future of the Old Volunteer State than any other enterprise within her borders. Let every true Tennessean resolve to do his or her part to make the fair this year the best in the land. It means millions to Tennessee.

A well known young woman in town walke! over the burg Tuesday afternoon without being recognized. She wore a bandana hamper hat that completely hid her face.
